Appeal Material		BUDGET-ACTIVITY BUDGET-LINE-ITEM BUDGET-SUB-ACTIVITY PROGRAM-PLAN PROGRAM-PLAN-BUDGET-PERIOD		Each year the actions taken by congressional committees during consideration of the DoD authorization and appropriation requests are reviewed by the DoD components and normally that review process results in the component submitting an appeal to the committee actions. Appeals may be made on the basis of dollars, quantities, manpower and/or language. The submission of appeal materials to the congressional committees involves a letter to the appropriate committee chairman (or chairmen in the case of appeals to joint conferees), which sets forth the department's position on the most significant programs/items impacted by congressional actions. This letter is prepared for the signature of the Secretary of Defense. Only the secretary will provide the department's position on appeal items. The sequence for submission of appeal material can vary each year and is primarily dependent upon the timing of each committee's actions on the budget request. The preparation of appeal items begins when the actions of the committees become known. Where feasible, the appeal material will be modified to reflect final floor action since amendments adopted on the floor can significantly change positions reported out by the committees. The appeal will be as close to the President's Budget as possible, while restricted to considering only the last two actions (assuming there have been two) within each separate process (i.e., authorization and appropriation).
Appeal Submission Instructions		BUDGET-ACTIVITY BUDGET-LINE-ITEM BUDGET-SUB-ACTIVITY PROGRAM-PLAN PROGRAM-PLAN-BUDGET-PERIOD		Instructions prepared by OSD to be distributed to the components for the preparation of their appeal materials that will support the department's position to the congressional budget hearing.

An agreement is a written instrument of understanding following negotiations between an agency, contracting activity, or contracting office and a contractor, where terms, such as pricing and/or discounts have been negotiated. An agreement does not guarantee a purchase volume, level, or value to the supplier; however, contains contract terms and clauses applying to future contracts between the parties during its term; a description, as specific as practicable, of supplies or services to be provided; and methods for pricing, issuing, and delivering future contracts or orders under the agreement. It may include comprehensive terms and conditions, performance criteria or service level requirements that are expected and agreed to. Future contracts or orders will incorporate by reference or attachment the required and applicable clauses agreed upon in the agreement. An agreement is not a contract or order.

The awarded procurement instrument may contain the original or modified procurement instrument that has been mutually agreed upon between the buyer and supplier. It includes all types of actions that obligate the DoD to an expenditure of funds and that, except as otherwise authorized, are in writing. In addition to bilateral instruments, procurement instruments include, but are not limited to, awards and notices of awards; job orders or task letters issued under basic ordering agreements; letter contracts; and orders, such as purchase orders, under which the contract becomes effective by written acceptance or performance. Procurement Instruments could include Fixed-price, Cost-reimbursement, Incentive, Cooperative Agreements, Other Transactions, Indefinite-Delivery type orders, order against Basic Agreements, Basic Ordering Agreements and Federal Supply Schedules. A procurement instrument may be funded or unfunded and does not necessarily create an obligation of funds (an example of no funding would be a basic ordering agreement or a contract modification changing the period of performance).

In the following nine months (February - October) the President's Budget will be closely scrutinized, serving as guidance for two major pieces of defense-related legislation: the National Defense Authorization Bill and the Defense/Military Construction Appropriations Bills. Of all the legislative matters before Congress, none is more important nor more political than the review of the President's Budget. It will be examined by 535 members of Congress and hundreds of congressional staffers, each of whom possess their own agendas and priorities. The end product of the enactment process is the Authorization and Appropriations Bills.

Such plan shall contain <ul style="list-style-type: none"> (1) a comprehensive mission statement covering the major functions and operations of the agency; (2) general goals and objectives, including outcome related goals and objectives, for the major functions and operations of the agency; (3) a description of how the goals and objectives are to be achieved, including a description of the operational processes, skills and technology, and the human, capital, information, and other resources required to meet those goals and objectives; (4) a description of how the performance goals included in the plan required by section 1115(a) of title 31 shall be related to the general goals and objectives in the strategic plan; (5) an identification of those key factors external to the agency and beyond its control that could significantly affect the achievement of the general goals and objectives; and (6) a description of the program evaluations used in establishing or revising general goals and objectives, with a schedule for future program evaluations. The strategic plan shall cover a period of not less than five years forward from the fiscal year in which it is submitted, and shall be updated and revised at least every three years. The performance plan required by section 1115 of title 31 shall be consistent with the agency's strategic plan. A performance plan may not be submitted for a fiscal year not covered by a current strategic plan under this section. When developing a strategic plan, the agency shall consult with the Congress, and shall solicit and consider the views and suggestions of those entities potentially affected by or interested in such a plan. The functions and activities of this section shall be considered to be inherently Governmental functions. The drafting of strategic plans under this section shall be performed only by Federal employees. For purposes of this section the term 'agency' means an Executive agency defined under section 105, but does not include the Central Intelligence Agency, the General Accounting Office, the Panama Canal Commission, the United States Postal Service, and the Postal Rate Commission.

If applicable, the modification may include an additional funds certification. Modifications include any written change in the terms of a contract or order including bilateral and unilateral modifications. A bilateral modification (supplemental agreement) is a modification that is signed by the contractor and the contracting officer. Bilateral modifications are used to make negotiated equitable adjustments resulting from the issuance of a change order; definitize letter contracts; and reflect other agreements of the parties modifying the terms of contracts. A unilateral modification is a modification that is signed only by the contracting officer. Unilateral modifications are used, for example, to make administrative changes; issue change orders; make changes authorized by clauses other than a changes clause (e.g., Property clause, Options clause, or Suspension of Work clause); and issue termination notices.
Draft Human Resources Management Policy and Guidance		DOCUMENT ORGANIZATION PERSON		This includes a draft of the Human Resources Management (HRM) policy and guidance document that will be sent for collaboration with the appropriate parties for their input. Draft HRM policy and guidance may include (but not be limited to) accession policy, compensation policy, enlisted and officer personnel management policy. This information may include (but not be limited to) policy effective date, policy name, policy description, and policy change summary description.

Education Course Catalog Information		DOCUMENT ORGANIZATION PERSON		This includes repository information associated with the list of all education programs (these programs could be implemented by resident or distributed learning). The information may include (but not be limited to) eligibility specifications, administration, operations support, and course information needed for the management of higher education (degree granting) programs (Department of Defense (DoD) funded at both DoD and civilian institutions), DoD Education Activity programs, DoD Programs with Industry and schools covered within the National Defense University (i.e., National War College, the Industrial College of the Armed Forces, the Joint Advanced Warfighting School, and the Joint Forces Staff College), and the Services' Command and Staff colleges and War Colleges.
Education Course Curriculum Information		DOCUMENT ORGANIZATION PERSON		This includes information associated with newly developed or modified Department of Defense (DoD) education program curriculums. This information may include (but not be limited to) prerequisites, educational goals and objectives, plans, tests, course evaluation methods, and associated courseware.
Education Course Deficiency		DOCUMENT ORGANIZATION PERSON		This includes identified mission related problems, from the warfighter community involved with operations, potentially requiring a modification to a specific education program. This information may include (but not be limited to) requestor name, organization, Universal Joint Task List (UJTL) related item (e.g., Strategic Theater item), request date, deficiency information and recommendation.
Education Course Proposal		DOCUMENT ORGANIZATION PERSON		This includes any proposal information from inside or outside the Department of Defense (DoD) for the creation or modification of an education program. This information may include (but not be limited to) requestor name, organization, eligibility specifications, safety analysis information, course information, request date, proposal information and recommendations based on instructor and student evaluations.
Education Course Proposal Assessment		DOCUMENT ORGANIZATION PERSON		This includes response to a submitted deficiency or proposal for a creation or modification of an education program. This information may include (but not be limited to) requestor name, organization, analysis summary, evaluation results, proposal assessment information, evaluator name, and assessment date.
Education Course Scheduling Information		DOCUMENT ORGANIZATION PERSON		This includes information associated with the location and education class session information within a specified time frame (e.g., 120 days at a specific education facility), for all Department of Defense (DoD) education programs.

Model type and intended purpose Model Structure: The model structure reflects the organization and relationships of responsibility segments and cost objects. It also incorporates attributes which may support grouping, sorting, and reporting in ways not possible with pre-defined organizational and cost object structures. For example, if the cost object being reviewed is a geographic location (i.e., Baltimore), this attributing may provide the ability to view information not only by geographic location, but also by type (i.e., seaport, land port, airport), function, size, jurisdiction, etc. Responsibility Segments - A responsibility segment is a component of a reporting entity that is responsible for carrying out a mission, conducting a major line of activity or producing one or a group of related products or services. In addition, responsibility segments usually possess the following characteristics: 1. Their managers report to the entity's top management directly; and 2. Their resources and results of operations can be clearly distinguished from those of other segments of the entity. These two characteristics differentiate responsibility segments from cost objects. A cost object can be at any level of an organization and may not report to the top management directly. A responsibility segment can contain cost objects within itself. Cost Object - This is an activity or item whose cost is to be measured. In a broad sense, a cost object can be an organizational division, geographical area (e.g., district, region, etc.), cost center, program, activity, task, product, service, customer or asset. Cost objects may be decomposed into lower level cost objects to the extent required. As an example, the purpose of cost accounting by a responsibility segment is to measure the costs of its outputs. These outputs may be the services or products that the segment produces and delivers, the missions or tasks that the segment performs, or the customers or markets that the responsibility segment serves. There may be intermediate cost objects that are used in the course of the cost assignment process.
New Customer Information				In order to set up an account receivable for a new customer, new customer information must be provided to the accounting office. New customer information includes the name, address, identification, credit worthiness, and details regarding goods or services to be provided, along with agreed to billing requirements.
New Data Element Request		TECHNOLOGY-CAPABILITY		As a result of responding to the customer's request, the cost accountant may identify the need for creating a new data element. This object represents the request that the new data element be created by the appropriate owner.

Program Scope		DEVELOPMENT-PLAN-GOAL GUIDANCE MATERIEL-CATALOG-ITEM METRIC ORGANIZATION-ASSOCIATION PERSON PERSON-EVACUATION PERSON-NAME PROGRAM-PLAN PROGRAM-PLAN-ACTIVITY		In project management, the scope of a project is the sum total of all of its products and their requirements or features (Guide to the PMBOK). Sometimes the term scope is used to mean the totality of work needed to complete a project. In traditional project management, the tools to describe a project's scope are the product breakdown structure and product descriptions. The primary tool to describe a project's scope (work) is the WBS.
Program Work Breakdown Structure		DEVELOPMENT-PLAN-GOAL GUIDANCE MATERIEL-CATALOG-ITEM METRIC ORGANIZATION-ASSOCIATION PERSON PERSON-EVACUATION PERSON-NAME PROGRAM-PLAN PROGRAM-PLAN-ACTIVITY		The WBS structure that encompasses an entire program. It consists of at least three levels of the program with associated definitions and is used by the government PM and contractor to develop and extend a CWBS. QoL Program Feedback Request		DOCUMENT ORGANIZATION PERSON		This includes a request for feedback about the quality, effectiveness, or other comments or complaints about a Quality of Life (QoL) program or lack thereof. This information will be used to assist in assessing the effectiveness of a QoL program and generating program assessment information, program standards feedback information, and QoL program reports. Feedback may be requested informally (e.g., program staff capturing comments from program participants) or formally (e.g., sending out surveys to QoL program participants and their families).
QoL Program Information		DOCUMENT ORGANIZATION PERSON		This includes consolidated information about the status and performance of a Quality of Life (QoL) program or programs (e.g., fiscal information, resource utilization, and program history, effectiveness, and enrollment statistics).
QoL Program Planning Document		DOCUMENT ORGANIZATION		This includes information relating to Quality of Life (QoL) program plans. This information may include (but not be limited to) short and long-term plans for QoL programs (e.g., planned reviews of programs and financial resourcing ensuring that program delivery is consistent with the DoD Component and Military Services' goals and objectives, and information describing how to align program goals and objectives with resourcing, responsibilities, and implementation programming).
QoL Program Proposal		DOCUMENT ORGANIZATION		This includes information associated with a proposal for a modification to or the establishment of a specific Quality of Life (QoL) program. The information may include (but not be limited to) requestor personal information (e.g., name ID number, organization), narrative on the nature of the proposed modification or establishment, and data or projections related to the modified or new QoL program being proposed (e.g., projected usage numbers, expenses, revenues, future development plans).
QoL Program Report		DOCUMENT ORGANIZATION		This includes reporting information related to Quality of Life (QoL) programs. This may be a response to a QoL program information request, or it may be a report that is released at regularly scheduled intervals about the effectiveness of QoL programs (individually or in aggregate) at achieving mission goals and objectives.
QoL Program Standards Document		DOCUMENT ORGANIZATION		This includes standards information for Quality of Life (QoL) programs against which these programs are held accountable. This information is developed in an iterative manner through analysis of historically effective standards and current strategy and policy, and it may be specific to certain aspects of the programs (e.g., financial, performance, utilization).

Senate Appropriation Committee Report		BUDGET-ACTIVITY BUDGET-ACTIVITY-CATEGORY BUDGET-LINE-ITEM BUDGET-LINE-ITEM-CATEGORY BUDGET-SUB-ACTIVITY BUDGET-SUB-ACTIVITY-CATEGORY PROGRAM-PLAN PROGRAM-PLAN-BUDGET-PERIOD		The U.S. Senate Committee on Appropriations is a standing committee of the United States Senate. It has jurisdiction over all discretionary spending legislation in the Senate. The Senate Appropriations Committee is the largest committee in the U.S. Senate, consisting of 28 members. Its role is defined by the U.S. Constitution, which requires "appropriations made by law" prior to the expenditure of any money from the Treasury, and is therefore one of the most powerful committees in the Senate.
